The next session was taken by Dr. S. Saira Banu, Associate Prof of The Dept. of English- on the topic “Enriching Verbal Ability”. The session started with analytics, as a pair of students were asked to enact and the other participants were made to observe the use of vocabulary in their communication. She expressed that the intention and purpose of sender should not be modified by the receivers. She also brought out the ‘Mnemonic’ technique to ease memorizing. Purposive vocabulary, and proper communication make good communication. She emphasized that reading is the main element of English proficiency. The quest for Vocabulary grows when we start applying it in day-to-day context.

: Dr. S. Saira Banu, Associate.Professor of English, presenting observational analysis on verbal expression and usage of words-"Empowering Words".

The Last session of the event was handled by Mr. Hari Haran on the topic of Telephonic etiquette. He discussed and made students think from both sides of a telephone wave holder. He gave 6 components that should be a possession of the sender. He gave a structural principle on which and how the students should approach telephonic communication. Salutation, Introducing, Identifying the receiver, asking permission and other etiquette should be remembered by the sender of the message.

On 22.12.2021, the final day of the event had two illuminating sessions. The First session was on Divergent thinking by Dr. G. Pragasam, Techno Managerial Consultant, Madurai. He started the session with Carl Sagan's demonstration: "Earth as an atom on the constellation". He asked the student to master focussed talent in the workplace. He talked on the distractions that influence youth's minds. He also asked the students to overcome the disturbances in 7 forms: *Techno Awareness *sufficient sleep * cluttering atmosphere*Exercising *Enough Resting *ADHD * and the Pomodere method of working for 25 mins with the rest for 5 mins. He concluded the session with the behavioural narratives as detailed by by Sundar Pichai in the form of cockroach theory. He exclaimed that students should be more responsive than being reactive in all circumstances.

The last session of the Career Guidance Week was “Successful Interviewing Skill” handled by Ms. S. Praveena HR Manager, Talent Acquisition Wistech Source, Chennai. It is noteworthy that she is an alumna of Fatima College. She described the ways, and processes of Manager interviewing. Being a Human Resource, she shared her view on what a company demands from the worker. She added that one’s communication should be cool, brave and right towards a purpose. Attitudinal and aptitudinal skill gels one with co-workers and higher officials. She concluded the session by saying that rejection in an interview doesn’t matter when the experience one gets from the interview is precious. The students should aim for gaining experience than having an eye for income.
