REPORT

In commemoration of the 75th independence of India, students distributed the National Flag to the villagers and school children of Kondayampatti. This created a good opportunity for the villagers to delve into patriotism. These activities also generated patriotic knowledge among the students.

The students also gave awareness on personal hygiene and breast cancer, particularly to the women folk. This was an effort taken to reduce the stigma of breast cancer through education on symptoms and treatment. Through this awareness, villagers will develop knowledge which in turn leads to earlier detection of breast cancer, which is associated with higher long-term survival rates. They also insisted on the use of masks and sanitizers to prevent themselves from COVID-19.
