Deepa, Assistant Professor, Department of Management Studies, School of Business Studies, Madurai Kamaraj University, and Mr. Shebas Khan, CEO, Infinity Media, were the resource persons for the event. Totally 175 students of I and II MBA attended the sessions.

The programme began with a prayer song followed by a welcome address delivered by Ms. Rubina. J, II MBA. The auditorium was abuzz with excitement when the speaker began the session by raising questions about the career choices of the Management graduates.

Highlights:

Session 1 was conducted from 9:30 am to 10:45 am. It began with a welcome address delivered by Ms. Rubina J of II MBA. Dr. Deepa was the resource person for session 1 She addressed the audience on "Break the glass ceiling for career women". The auditorium had enthusiasm when the speaker began the session by raising questions about breaking the invisible barrier through which women can visualize prospective careers but cannot reach them.

Highlighting the report of World Economic Forum's Gender Gap Report that ranks India 136 out of 146 countries in gender parity, Dr. Deepa stated that it would take 132 years to break out of this gender gap. The feminine qualities of having empathy, compassion and other qualities pave the way for improvising a woman's knowledge, learning and gaining confidence to break the gap.

The speaker urged the students to build their profile by pursuing skill development courses apart from their regular courses, to avoid being a stereotype and start utilizing the innate ability of individuals to excel in career and find a balance between the feminine and masculine qualities.

She further highlighted the key of her lecture about up-skilling by denoting opportunities to break the ceiling. The lecture was received with admiration by the students and they also found the slides to be appropriate for budding career women. The session 1 ended with a key note from the speaker "Place the cracks in the glass ceiling and eventually break it entirely" followed by a vote of thanks which was delivered to the speaker by Ms. Kiruthiga R of II MBA for acquainting the students with a refined and value filled session.
