

The book adopted ICT services in research, teaching and learning activities during pandemic period. This study investigated the impact of ICT adoption on historical studies and computer application. The study found that ICT services have improved higher education by facilitating access to information, analysis of data and dissemination of research findings. The study recommends the need for proper training of students and lecturers on the use of ICT in research activities. This book more useful and gives valuable information for research scholar, undergraduate and postgraduate student.

H. Poomima Sethupathi
Jeyia Kani

Adoption of Information and Communication Technology

on Historical studies and Computer Application

Mrs. V. Selvarani, HOD & Assistant Professor of Computer Application, Fatima College (Autonomous), Madurai.
Dr. S. Poomimasethupathi, Assistant Professor of History, Fatima College (Autonomous), Madurai.

9 786206 173380

LAP LAMBERT
Academic Publishing