They raised awareness about the upcoming Election and addressed the factors that should be considered while selecting a leader. The present scenario of the country, the ruling party, the corruption at hand, religious and communal riots instigated, farmers being declined the support etc. were pinpointed.

The play was split up into various scenarios, where each of them represented a different problem. They hinted the political cruelties and the horrors faced by people due to it. It was very well-presented and the play gave an understanding as to how some impulsive decisions of ours about voting may cause destructive consequences. They also elegantly portrayed the lack of safety and suppression in the society. Their well-proportioned skit with humour, self-written script to create awareness, inducing songs and the fast beats of parai, the traditional instrument of Tamil Nadu was fascinating. The team coordinated well and each of them beamed with confidence. All the while, the audience were kept engaged by the play's humour and rhythmic drums from the Parai. On the whole, the content ignited an emotion of self-awakening.

The play ended with a message to use our vote properly to bring prosperity. The students spread awareness that the leader we select must be fairly selected without bias and he must be someone who would work for the prosperity of the nation and the people in it.

Their immense talent was applauded and rewarded with a big round of applause. A wide smile clung onto the faces of everyone in the audience. The enjoyment was evident on the audience's face.

At the end, the staff who accompanied the students from St. Joseph's College rewarded the students of Fatima College who gave wonderful feedbacks, with books. They honoured the Fatima College Part V coordinators and staff- in- charge too. The event concluded as everyone was duly thanked and honoured.
