I Year Procedures

In the first year of the course, the students are trained to do the volumetric analysis in a double burette method where 60% of water wastage is avoided and also the quantity of the solution used for the titrations are minimised.

Teaching them to learn to apply the principles of green chemistry at the start of their college science education will allow them more time to firmly establish a foundation in the principles of green chemistry that they can later use in their

Estimation of Ferrous Aluminum Sulphate

Estimate the amount of Ferrous Ammonium Sulphate (FAS) present in the whole of the given solution. You are provided with a standard solution of Ferrous ammonium sulphate containing 2g in 100ml. The link solution is KMnO_4 .

Titration -I: Std. FAS vs KMnO_4

Burette solution : KMnO_4

Solution: 20ml of std. FAS solution drained from 2nd burette + 1 test tube of dil. H_2SO_4

Indicator : Self
Endpoint : pale permanent pink colour
: Appearance of

The first end point is noted and again 1ml of std.FAS solution is added from the 2nd burette to the same conical flask solution. The pink colour disappears and again KMnO_4 is added in drops till pale permanent pink colour appears. The 2nd end point is noted. The same procedure is repeated for two more additions of std.FAS and the end points are noted down and recorded.
